VINCA PPP Project is nominated for Transformational Business Awards 2020

Beo Cista Energija – the joint-venture formed by SUEZ, ITOCHU Corporation (ITOCHU) and MARGUERITE is proud to announce that VINCA PPP project in partnership with the City of Belgrade is nominated among finalists of the Award – Core Category of Transformational Technology in Urban Infrastructure by Financial Times/International Finance Corporation (World Bank Group) Transformational Business Awards in 2020, the leading global initiative that highlights ground-breaking, long-term private sector solutions to major development issues, with the core categories directly related to global efforts to achieve the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

This award especially relates to Sustainable Development Goal 9 “Build resilient infrastructure, promote inclusive and sustainable industrialisation and foster innovation”, and Goal 11 “Make cities and human settlements inclusive, safe, resilient and sustainable”. It highlights projects that address the most crucial infrastructure needs in the fast-growing cities of the developing world, with long-term socio-economic impact.

The VINCA PPP project (which includes landfill remediation, construction of Energy from Waste plant, engineered sanitary landfill with biogas recovery and leachate treatment facility and a demolition waste recycling unit) has at least 7 contributions to UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

This project and its unique solution will preserve environment from pollution and provide energy from waste in accordance with EU standards & Best Available Techniques. This project is also supported by International Financial Institutions such as International Finance Corporation (IFC), the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD), the Development Bank of Austria (OeEB) and Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA).

The winners of Transformational Business Awards 2020 will be announced at a special dinner in London on 8th October.

We will keep you informed and hopefully share good news!
